News of the Morning. The South Carolina Commissioners are expected at Washington this week, to negotiate for Forts Moultrie and Sumpter. The new steamship John P. King, built for the New York and Charleston line, was destroyed by fire, at New York, yesterday. Loss $160,000. The Secessionists have invoked the aid of the French and English Consuls at Charleston. In reply the Consuls stated that all communications made to them on the subject, would be transmitted to the State Department at Washington. The steamship Alina has arrived from Liverpool, with $660,000 in gold. A terrible explosion had occurred on the Risea Coal Mine, near Newport, Wales, by which one hundred and seventy lives were lost. The South Carolina Secresion Convention after perfecting their organization, adjourned to Charletton, where they are now in gession.

Matters Mending. The New York Money and Produce Markets, yesterday, exhibited a very decided improvement. The force of the panic is spent. Confidence begins to revive. There is hope too, that the extreme measures and headlong action of the South Carolina madfor the best.

Secession Seceding.

The South Carolina Secession Convention, which met at Columbia on Monday, adjourned yesterday to Charleston, frightened away from the State Capital by the small pox! But for the grave nature of the question at issue, this remarkable performance of the Seceding "chtvalre" would excite "irrepressible" laughter wherever the story of their lasty field is told. THE ULTIMATUM OF SOUTH CAROLINA .-The Charleston Mercury publishes a very strong letter, dated at Lowell, Mass., in which the writer vindicates the course of South Carolina, justifies her secession and

In my returnation, wothing short of amendments to the Constitution, that would make a green developed and perpetual in corry State of the World and perpetual in corry State of the World and wood of the World and wood of the World and wood of the World State, It is not only possible, but probable, that such a reaction may take place in the public mind."

Here is, substantially, the ultimatum the Secessionists. We entertain very serious doubts whether the people of the United States will sanction their cool prop sition.

The Feeling in South Carolina.

Correspondence of the N. 1. Technic.

CHARLESTON, Dec. 8, 1860.

I wish that Mr. Corwin and his Congressional Committee if they entertain the slightest hope of doing anything to keep the Union together, could, for the brief space of thirty minutes, hear how the leaders it. South Carolina talk, and how all efforts at conciliation are viewed. If this is a Confederacy held together solely by public sentiment, and one that the honds of fraternal feeling only oan hold together, then the case is utterly hopelies, so far as South Carolina is concerned, and I believe all the Cotton States. Words Correspondence of the  $N,\ Y,\ Tribune$ and I believe all the Cotton States. Words are too weak to express the disgust they are two weak to express the disgust they have for the Free States, especially New England. The human mind is not inventive enough to supply invective to express the scorn of the Northern "brethren." The case is beyond hope. Mr. Corwin's compromises will be like giving medicine to a dead man, for whom nothing is possible but a decent huris! cent burial We are told that after death comes the res-

We are told that after death comes the resurrection. It is to that stage of the case that Mr. Corwin and his Committee may legitimately, and perhaps profitably, turn their attention. If they can resurrect, all very well. If Mr. C, or any one else, has the power to replace the fragments of the Union, and reform them into a homogeneous whole, the work is surely worthy of his best efforts. But he first should know what South Carolina, and probably most of the Cotton States. But he tirst should know what South Caro-liua, and probably most of the Cotton States, want. With her lying at the bottom of all this Secession business, is the opening of the slave trade. South Carolina will struggle to keep out of any connection that does not realize this object. She demands cheaper negroes. It squares with her conscience, how religious and votions of scittivistics. negroes. It requires with her considence, her religion, and notions of civilization, in order to get them to open the African slave trade, which the whole civilized world beside has united in branding as piracy. To whatever political condition she may attach herself—whether a Southern Confederacy, an Oligarchy, or representative Monarchy, she will prove a pestilent member.

If she is left to set up for herself, she will be a blotch. Having for her prime object the opening of the piratical slave trade, and the indefinite expansion of the slave system, less than this she cannot be, whatever may be her relations. Even though such were not her principles, the task of conciliating be her relations. Even though such were not her principles, the task of conciliating her would be scarcely less. A community that has by legislative action stricken from the list of holidays the Fourth of July, that has outlawed the signers of the Declaration of Independence as misguided and defined men, and Washington not less; a State that so hates not only the Union itself, but the very name, that its Legislature expunges it from the list of names given to legal divisions, is past hoping for, if not past wishing for. If Mr. Corwin's Committee can conquer the prejudices of South Carelina, he may concitiate her. But, judging from what I see around me every day, I concided that the contest which Rarey had with the mad horse Cruiser was nothing to what Air. Corwin would have before he subdued the nullifiers.

The exclusive air of a bank that suffocates the poor man and makes him act like a boy in the presence of gold-was prevading this room. Great fortunes were dealt with here. A stern law seemed to be in force. It was the Court of Janus, and nothing of trivial moment must interfere with the ceremonies. But the child entered. The clerks were moistening their fingers on the sponges and telling over the dollars. Care-worn men pressed about the paying teller. Discount, each and interest were the only topics, and the little child, who was neatly, but not attractively dressed, was in the way. One, two, three gentlemen she spoke to and got no answer-they did not hear her. She locked in to an adjoining room-carpeted and frescoed-where a gentleman sat before a great book writing .-She hesitated a moment-fearing a repulse, and the gentleman looked up. He got up and approached her immediately, with a Band-despite the dreadful state of the smile, and said, "What will you have, my little woman ?" and the little woman said, very large audience. I did not say in speaking of the announcement in Mr. Consing's church on Sunday evening, "Yes, I was there and 1223 heard your offer," for I was not there. I will only add, in view of the contradiotions which may be observed in the statements of Mr. Consing and myself, that I am perfectly willing to submit the question of veracity to the judgment of the public. CHARLES CAVERNO.

Notice .- The Executive Committee for administering the fund for the relief of those made destitute by the Lady Elgin disaster, will hold its next meeting at the Mayor's office on Monday, Dec. 24th, at 9 o'clock in the morning. The Committee will be happy to receive information or suggestions from any person feeling an interest in the business with which it is charged. By order of the Committee.

CHARLES QUENTIN, ANDREW MULLEN,

Secretaries. SPIRIT OF THE PRESS .- The Wisconsis contains a due show of local items, as follows: An essay on Old Hundred: stolen item from a C. lifornia paper about Washington movement: collision of two alcogment parties in Ohio; oblinary notice of distinguished men in Pittsburgh and London; item of tearing up railroad track at Oshkosh, week old; account of a street railroad car in Brooklyn, N Y.; apple rolls; divorce case. and general intelligence on the third page copied from the morning papers.

WELL DONE AND WELL DESERVED .- Last evening, Messrs, Sharpstien and Lathrop late proprietor of the News, were summoned to the office to meet their old printers and very extensive, and warranted perfect .- employees on special business. The summons being obeyed, each of the two gentlemen was presented with a rich and elegant Gold Pencil, as a token of the personal regard entertained for them, by those who had been for several years, in their employ. It was well done and well deserved, DOES MR. DOMSONKE WANT AN OFFICE,-The above is the heading of an editorial in the Atlas of yesterday. In the article which follows, the editor philosophises in a very cool and dispassionate manner about offices, and came to the equally wise conclusion that he does not want any, and that his recent visit to Chinago had nothing to do with politics. We can congratulate our neighbor on his philosophy-it is sound, at the same time we can safely say he deserves a better office than he occupies at present.

Her anger, rage, and vexation; the Expid succession of bitter and passionate feelings that whirled through her mind, as she surveyed, first, the biscuit, then the pastry, &c., which was spread before the guze of the astidious guests! How she vowed that Saleratus had in a your seen her ruin; that but for the accentric and unacountable peculiarities of this preparation, she should t that moment have astonished the assembled comparny with cream cakes and delicious party. If she had only used D. B. De Land & Co.'s Saleratus, which is perfectly pure and reliable, she would have been spared all this mortification. She procured De Land's aleratus the very next day, of her grocer, and ha had no such trouble since! It can be purchased from may good grover, and is sold at wholesale by the mar facturers, at Fairport, Monroe Co., N. Y., and by the oringinal grocers in all parts of the country,

Medical men, both Alopathic and famospathic, unanimously concur that the strong alkali contained in common Saleratus is detrimental t health, and puves the way for disease. They also con ur that Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is t only perfectly harmless article to the market which can be relied upon. Use it with cream tartar instead of Soda. # THE SENTINEL

DAILY, TRI-WEEKLY & WEEKLY RUFUS KING, EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 19, '60. Trade and Commerce of Milwankee. On the first of January we shall publish a cowardice which does him to infamy. On full and accurate statement of the trade, the other hand, the resignation of Secretary commerce and general business of Milwaukee, for the year just closing, embracing comparative statistics of our grain trade for fifteen years, carefully compiled from official erable statesman, and atones for many an sources; and also an exhibit of the total exports of flour and grain from all the ports in Wisconsin during the past season of navigation. It will also be printed in pamphlet form for subscribers, and any firm taking ten copies, or more, can have their card printed on the covers of the number for which they subscribe, without additional charge. This will be a good document to circulate, and as we are desirous that the extent of the trade of our city should be known abroad, we shall furnish the pamphlet to subscribers at a very moderate cost. Orders may be left at the Counting Room of the SENTINEL office.

Slavery Local-Webster and Ciny. It is worth our while, now that the South Imperatively demands, as a sine qua non of her remaining in the Union, the nationalization of slavery, to recur to the opinions of the great statesmen of our country on this very subject. Exception might be taken to on the 10th of October, and her crew sent what the living should say. Therefore, let | home in the store-ship Relief, which arrived the dead speak !

DANIEL WEBSTER, in his remarks upon the Oregon bill in 1848, thus clearly and put in for water on the 6th of October, and emphatically pronounced SLAVERY to be purely a local institution:

"The Southern States have peculiar laws, This is purely local. The real meaning, then, of Southern gentlemen in making this Territories of the United States, carrying with them their own peculiar local law-a law which creates property in persons .- speed of the pursuer induced the brig to here I think gentlemen are unjust toward for the brig and bearded her. us. How unjust they are, others will judge -generations that will come after us will judge. It will not be contended that this sort of personal slavery exists by general law. It exists only by local law. I do not mean to deny the validity of that local law where it is established; but I may it is, after all, nothing but local law. It is nothing more. And wherever that local does not extend, property in persons does not exist." tor Davis of Mississippi, made the following memorable and elequent protest against the extension of the local institution into the free Territories of the Republic: "I am extremely sorry to hear the Senator from Misssissippi say that he requires, first, the extension of the Missouri Com. promise line to the Pacific, and, also, that he is not satisfied with that, but requires, if I understand him correctly, a positive provision for the admission of Blavery south of that line. And now, sir, coming from a Stave State as I do, I owe it to myself, I owait to truth, I owe it to the subject, to say, that no earthly power could induce me to vote for a specific measure for the introduction of Slavery where it had not before duction of Slavery where it had not before existed, either south or north of the line.—

Coming as I do from a Slave State, it is my selemn, deliberate, and well-matured determination that no power—no earthly power—no transpired. Sir, while you reproach, de Lenha, where she got the blacks. and justly, too, our British ancestors for the introduction of this justitution upon the continent of North America, I am, for one, unwilling that the posterity of the present inhabitants of California and of New Mexico | 10

In this declaration of HENDY CLAY and the accompanying opinion of DARKEL WEBstreamay be found the germ of the Republican Platform and Policy. It is briefly this:
Non-Intervention with Slavery where it exists by local law; opposition to its extension into Theritory now Free. Such was the Nonreturn is not been such as the Nonreturn is not been such as the Nonreturn is not been such as the into Territory now Free. Such was the NA-TIONAL policy when the Union and Constition were formed. By what authority is it declared Sectional now?

A Lecturer Silenced.

Mr. Grouge W. Curris, who so brilliantly inaugurated the Lecture Season before the Young Mens' Association in this last week. The following correspondence tells the reason why:

People's Literary Institutes—
DEAR 25th—The appearance of George W. Couls, permit his presence on that occasion.

Very respectfully, we., AGENANDER HENRY,
Mayor.

Concert Hall, Dec. 11, 1860.

J. W. White, Esq.: Deak Six:—I have been disclinily informed that, in the event of C. W. Curtis lecturing in this half on Thursday evening next, a riot is an inequated. Under these circumstances I cannot permit the half to be used on that occusion.

Respectfully,

Thomas A. Andrews.

From reading the above notes, it might be inferred that Mr. Curits had selected some "incendiary" topic for his lecture; and hence the apprehension of a "riot." But the subject amounced was "the policy of honesty." Is this a dangerous theme to discuss in the "City of Brotherly Love"? Or was Mr. Curits silenced as a peace offering to the South, because he was known to en-From reading the above notes, it might be to the South, because he was known to en presence on the occasion. tertain very decided Anti-Slavery sentiments?

TY Laws. - In reply, last week, to the intemperate harangues of lykason and Wig-PALL, two Southern Disunionists, Senstor Douglas said:

While we hear of personal floorly bills presented as cause of distanton, we are told, and, so far as I know, the statement is true, that in no one customer these lifts bean the cause of depricing a musler of the return of his slave. No man can dispute the fact thus strongly stated by the Serator from Illinois: and yet these laws, which have not cost the South a single slave, are made the pretext for dissolving the Union!

Corros Sticks !- In the Memphis mar-Corros Sricks!—In the Memphis marked to the staple at that point alone is estimated to the value of three millions of dollars.

Not a bale of it can be moved. The Banks refuse to expand, and as a consequence the refuse to expand, and as a consequence the cotton sticks. This state of things is the natural result of threats of secession. It is a pity that general election. The terms upon which planters and merchants should be thus victimized, in order to subserve the selfish Georgetown is to be annexed to Washington, are: schemes of politicians.

MORE BUCHANANISM .- The Charleston Courier of Tuesday has a telegram from Washingtod dated Dec. 10, containing the following rather misty intelligence: Means, Miles, Bunham and McQueen of the South Carolina de legation called upon the President to-day, and had a long and earnest consultation with the old gentleman on affairs relating to South Carolina. has abandoned the Federal Treasury at a period of embarrassment which has had no parallel in our history since the war of 1812, and at the conclusion of that exhausting struggle. The state of our national finances—with a Treasury actually compelled to dishonor its own drafts—is one which no American, even in this hour of apprehension on other grounds, can contemplate with other feelings than of untional humiliation. The desertion of his post, by Mr. Cons,in this crisis of political attairs, was an act of thinois.

There was tunult in the city.
In the quaint oil Quaker town;
And the streets were bigek with people,
Pacing restless up and deun;
People gathering in corners,
Where they whispered each to each,
And the sweat stood on their temples,
With the cornestness of speech.

As the black Atlantic currents
Lash the wild Newfoundland shore,
so they beat against the State House,
so they surged against is diefor;
And the inlinging of their voices
Made a harmony profound,
Till the quiet Street of Chesticus
Was all imbulent with sound.

"Will they do it?" "Dare they do it?"
"Who is speaking?!" "What the news?"
"What of Adam?!" "What of Carroly?!
"Or.! fied grant they wou!" refuse."
"Make some may there?!" "Let me usare?!"
"I am stilling?!" "Stille then!
When a nation? life? at hazzl.
We've no time to think of men!"

So they beat against the portals
While all solemnly Inside
The delegates of Congress,
With but reason for their guide,
O'er a simple seroll debated,
Which, though simple it might be,
Could shake the cliffs of England
With the thunders of the free!

At the portal of the State House, Like some beacon in a storm, Round which waves are wildly beating, Stood a slender, tooyisi force, With his eyes fixed on the steeple, And his ears agape with greed, To catch the announcement

See, see! the black crowd phivers Through all is lengthy line, As the boy upon the perial Looks up and gives the sign; And straightway at the signs; The old Bellman lifts his hand,

How they shouted I what rejoicing!
How the old bed shook the aby,
This the clank of Freedom ruffed.
The calm gliding Deheware!
How the booffree and the toroches.
Itlamed the night's repose,
And from the flames, like Pheenix,
Slaughtered Bherry arcse!

And hushed its from torigue,
But the spirit is makened
Still lives forever young.
And while we breathe the smilight
On the Fourth of this fully,
Let us not forget the Bellman,
Who, 'lwixt the earth and sky,
Rang out our Independence,
Which, please God, shall never die!

MANAGEMENT OF CREAM IN COLD WEATH-ER.—For some reason not yet known, cream skinmed from milk in cold weather does not come to butter when churned, so quickly as that from the same cow in warm weather.— Perhaps the pellicles, which form the little sacks of butter in cream, are thicker and tougher. There are two methods of obvia to set the pan of milk on the stove, or in some warm place, as soon as strained, and let it remain until quite warm—some say until a skim of cream begins to form on the surface. Another mode recommended, is to add atablespoonful of salt to a quart of cream when it is skimmed. Cream thus prepared will senerally come to butter in a few minutes when churned. It is thought the salt acts upon the conting of the butter globa. 5.00 acts upon the community of the c

For Kicking Cows-Take a short strap and fasten the ends together. Next prepare and has in the said together. Asset prepare a pin of some soft wood, about six or eight inches long, one and a half inches in diameter. Take the cow by the off-fore leg, and double it at the knee joint close; pass the strap or loop over the knee, pressing it back until you can insert the pin between that and the knee-joint, and she cannot kick. How to get Early Wheat .-- W. E. Antry. of Campbell Co., Ky., says he selected from his growing wheat the earliest and largest heads, rown this seed separately, and the produce the next harvest was "three weeks earlier than any other wheat of the same kind sown at the same time." He think by continuing this process hashall he able to get a very early variety. He is of opinion that seed wheat should be brought

FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL. The South Carolina Secession Convention. COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 17.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 17.
The Convention had four ballots on a permanent President. On the third ballot Gov. Clat received 28; ex-Senator Chestnut 17; ex Speaker Orr 32; Mr. Jameson 64; with some few scattering. On the fourth ballot Mr. Jameson received 118 votes; ex Speaker Orr 30; scattering 3.

Orr 30; scattering 3.

Mr. Jameson, on taking the chair, said he had not language to express his thacks for the honor conferred upon him in making him the presiding officer over the deliberations of the Convention. He considered that the Convention was engaged in a most important duty—the most important that had ever devolved on South Carolina. God only knows what will be the result of our proceedings, but he would implore God's proceedings, but he would involve the most in Charleston, at 4 o'clock to morrow P. M.—
This resolution caused considerable debate.

Mr. Miles appealed to the Convention not to adjourn to Charleston, but to remain here, regardless of the small-pox, or other physical or moral causes, and discharge the duties required by South Carolina.

He urged that other States would jeer at the limidity in the present crisis, and that the moral power of the present movement would be affected in other sympathizing States if we adjourn to Charleston.

Mr. Cochrane of Abbieville said he would never consent to leave Columbia until the ordinance of Steession was passed, and urg.

Mr. Cheever moved to lay that motion on the table.

Mr. Withers—Some members of this convention are better adapted for one part than another. The agriculturists will not do to examine commercial statistics and their hearings and vice versa. The convention had met to consider the pulling down of one government and the building up of snother. To determine our foreign and domestic instigovernment and the building up of another. To determine our foreign and domestic institutions and relations, and matters about changing the constitution of the State. It is certain the committee, no matter how able, can consider all and everything. I ask whether it is prudent to submit to the opinions of any one Committee.

The members of the South Carolina State Legislature and the delegates of the South Carolina Sover-ign Convention reached this city at one o'check this P. M., and were greated at the railroad depot by a salute of fifteen guns.

At the railroad depot a buttalion of the State Cadets, under Major Stevens, were drawn up on the arrival of the train. The order was given to open ranks so that the delegates could pass through. Maj Stevens here mounted the platform of one of the cars and greated Gen. Jameson, the President of the Convention, as follows: Mr. President: On learning that the Convention of South Carolina was about visiting the metropolis of the State, as an officer of the State, I could not resist the impulse of my heart to bring out young Carolina, as re-presented here by the battalion of State ladets, to do honor to the sovereignty of the Cadets, to do nohor to the severaginy of the State, and join with us in this testimonial of respect. You have been welcomed by the guns of the Marine artillery, which are always ready to defend the rights of the State and the property of the United States in South Carcina.

HOUS AND PROVISIONS AT CINCINNATE,

From the Guerite of Monday morning:

In our general markets, holders of bogs obtained important advantages again on Faturdey, prices for good late having advanced to $5,50, with one sale at $5,60; and at close, $5,70 was demanded. The receipts were light, and there were more buyers than sellers at the rates current. The weather was quite favorable, and packers were generally in better splits; but they audelpate lower figures in the event of heavy arriva's. The receipts reported were $0,000 head; but a train on the indianapolic and Cincinnati road, due in the morning, arrived after the tables were made up, with $5,00 head. There was a good demand for mily curred mess pork from the South, and this quality brought a fraction over $14,75; and at close it was held at $15. The supply is light. Fresh packed was offered for mext week at $14,500. The sales, including these forms to week at $14,50. The sales, facilities of which the price was not made public, comprised 1,000 bbts. Lard was in good demand, with sales of about $60 for sait $5 to 9 --mestige at $7,600. Green means closed from at $1, 500 --mestige at $7,600. LOSS OF LIPE UPON THE LAKES IN 1860. The Detroit Advertisor publishes a list showing the number of lives lost on the lakes in 1800. The aggrogate is fearfully large, and larger, we believe, than that of any previous season, if not of any three sea sons. Firs hundred and shety persons met their death batween the 28d of March and the 25th of November, a neviod of clubs months, by water, steam and cold, and the casualties incident to working sail vessels. The Advertisor says: wesels. The Adderstor says:

We have relied upon our files for the items, and believe the list accurate, and certainly, at least within the bounds of lasts. The probabilities, indeed, are rather in layer of a belief that our aggregate falls short of the real sum total, for meny vascels of the smaller class, trading between our of the way ports, and being wirecked at points far removed from places of publication of marine news, might lose man singly, for by the small crew, and the casualities be noted by no papers finding their way into the offices of the na-or by the small crew, and the 'easualities be noted by no papers finding their way into the offices of the papers of the larger ports.

The loss by one calastrophe alone, vis: that of the tramer Lady Elgin, was, according to the estimates of the reporters in Chicago and Mikankee, full four hundred, and all were drowned.

Seventy-eight lives, chiefly, if not entirely those of sea-faing men, were ascrifted to the demon of the waters, and to the frost and snow, in the terrific gale that swept the lakes on the 25d and 24th days of the last month.

Twenty seamen, on nearly as many different vessels, while in the performance of their duty, were rewary seemen, on nearly as many allerent ve-els, while in the performance of their duty, wer swept overhoard during the season, and drowned. Thirty-live persons met their death by being scald-ed by violent concussions, or by being drowned, in consequence of explosions of boliers. Six entire crews were lost, not one being left to tell the tale.
